

POWDER-COATED FENCE PANEL

Introducing Tree Island Steel's powder-coated fence panel – manufactured from the tough, durable steel you have come to expect from our products. Our flush-cut, low-maintenance panel provides excellent visibility and durability. The 4" x 4" welded mesh pattern is easy to install for use in residential or agricultural fencing, in lattice or trellis applications. Available in a black or grey powder-coated finish. Made in the USA.

Possible use illustrated. For any construction application, contact your local building authority to ensure product use meets local building code specifications prior to installation.
